

Political Science Career Tracks:

Business Fields

Many Political Science students express an interest in business fields. Majors go on to pursue careers in financial consulting, public relations, and corporate analysis.

POLS majors are required to take three introductory POLS courses, eight upper division POLS courses, and four upper division related courses to complete the POLS degree. The sample curriculum below is intended to provide an example of a course of study one might take if interested in pursuing business.

These are suggested courses only. They are meant only as a tool to guide the student towards a career in business fields.

Sample Curriculum

Introductory Courses	POLS 1202: Introduction to Comparative Politics POLS 1602: Introduction to American Politics POLS 1402: Introduction to International Relations
Major Courses	POLS 3208: Politics of Oil POLS 3239: Politics of Environment POLS 3256: Politics of Human Rights in Global Supply Chains POLS 3406: Globalization and Political Change POLS 3617: American Political Economy POLS 3618: Politics of Inequality POLS 3852: Politics of Budgeting POLS 3209: Sustainable Energy in the 21 st Century
Related Courses	BADM 3252: Corporate Social Impact and Responsibility BADM 3254: Business Solutions to Societal Challenges BADM 3673: Business Organizations and Governance ECON 2440: Economics of the Global Economy
Additional Curricular and Extracurricular Activities	International Business Society Undergraduate Business Society Women in Business Internships* Study Abroad*  *may earn academic credit for these experiences

